CONNOR SHAW

Connor Shaw, University of South Carolina's all-time winningest quarterback, currently serves as the Director of Football Relations on the Gamecock football staff. Shaw values the opportunity to develop student-athletes as leaders on and off the field.

As a former Gamecock quarterback, Shaw led Carolina to a 27-5 record, including a 17-0 record at Williams-Brice Stadium. In his four-year career, Shaw set a school record 65.5 completion percentage for 6,074 yards with 56 touchdowns while also rushing for 1,683 yards and 17 scores. His 74 total TD's is the most in school history. Shaw was a 5x SEC Player of the Week and earned the Capital One Bowl game's most valuable player for his 5TD performance.

Shaw logged 4 years in the NFL with Cleveland Browns (2014-15) and Chicago Bears (2016-17). Since his playing days, Connor founded "Shaw Camps" to host annual youth skills camps in partnership with the Boys and Girls Club throughout South Carolina.

Shaw and his wife, Molly, have two children, Mila and Decker.
